How Paws Atlas works — from finding a dog-friendly place to keeping the day forever.

Maverick, Chief Canine Officer

FROM THE CHIEF CANINE OFFICER

Hi. I'm Maverick.

I'm a chocolate Lab from Jupiter, Florida. I like the inlet, tennis balls, car rides and every single person I have ever met. My dad built this for me, and then he realised it was for you too.

Here is what I understand about it. You take me somewhere good. You write down what happened, or you just say it out loud and the words appear. A photo goes with it if you have one. And that day, which would have blurred into all the other days, stays. It sits in my LifeBook next to the day I came home and the first time I went in the ocean and decided the waves were personal.

That's the whole idea. Everything else in this guide — the places, the events, the trips, the emergency numbers, the vaccination dates — is there so the good days are easier to have and the hard days are easier to get through. The book is what's left when you add it all up.

Take me somewhere. Then write it down. I'll do the rest by being adorable.

Maverick

CHIEF CANINE OFFICER, PAWS ATLAS

BEFORE YOU START

Five things you'll do here.

Paws Atlas does a lot, so this guide follows what you actually do with it, in the order you'll meet it. Discover is finding places and events and, when it matters, the nearest emergency vet. Remember is the LifeBook — your pet's profile, journal entries, special occasions, speaking instead of typing, and albums.

Share is the Pack — Pack Stories on a place, posts and meetups on the Pack Feed. Plan is trips and packing. Care is Health & Records, the Emergency Kit and the Pet Passport.

Each page covers one feature the same way: what it is, where it lives on the site, how to do it in a few steps, and what it becomes — because almost everything you do here ends up in the LifeBook. A short Good to know on each page says plainly what the feature does not do yet.

One thing to know before you start: Paws Atlas has no server accounts yet. Your pet, your memories, your trips and your records are saved by your browser, on the device you're using. Open the site on another device and they are not there. The guide repeats this where it matters most. It changes when accounts arrive.

Find the places worth the drive.

A directory of dog-friendly places with the pet policy checked, events and adoption days, and the nearest emergency vet one tap away.

Find a place

Every place on Paws Atlas has been looked at by a person, and says so.

Places we don't have yet

Your dog's life doesn't wait for a city to launch.

Events & adoptions

Yappy hours, markets, game days, and the shelters that could use a hand.

THE DIRECTORY

Find a place

Every place on Paws Atlas has been looked at by a person, and says so.

WHAT IT IS

The directory is the front door of Paws Atlas: dog-friendly restaurants, parks, beaches, hotels, daycares, vets and stores, each with its pet policy stated the way the place itself states it. Jupiter, Florida is the first city. Maverick's Top Picks are the places he has actually been and would go back to.

WHERE IT LIVES

The homepage, under the hero. From there every category and city opens the city page, and every card on the city page opens the place.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Start at pawsatlas.com. The Jupiter now block shows how many places there are, by category, with Maverick's Top Picks in a row of their own.
2. Tap a category tile, or a city, to open the city page. Across the top are Favs, Verified, a toggle to show the places where dogs aren't allowed, and Cards or Map.
3. Tap Details → on any card. The place opens with its pet policy line, Call the venue, Visit website and Open in Google Maps.
4. Tap the ♥ on a card or a place to save it to your Saved places.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A place is where memories start. Check In Here on a place records the visit in your pet's LifeBook; Add a Memory opens the memory composer with the place already chosen; Add to Trip puts it on a trip you're planning.

GOOD TO KNOW

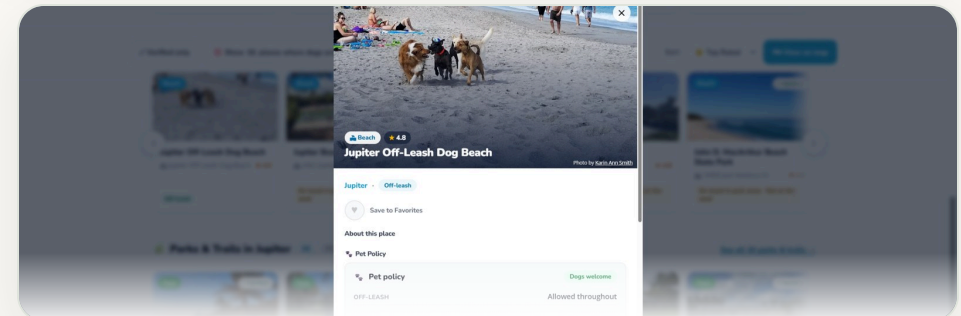

Jupiter is the launched city; the others in the city list are coming soon and say so. Places where dogs aren't allowed are kept out of the default view and shown only when you ask. A pet policy is never guessed: where a place hasn't stated one, the card says that instead.

ANYWHERE YOU GO

Places we don't have yet

Your dog's life doesn't wait for a city to launch.

WHAT IT IS

A place you make yourself — a trail two states away, the restaurant down the street, your mother's back porch — so a memory can be logged there exactly like at a verified place.

WHERE IT LIVES

In the place picker, wherever you add a memory: the LifeBook composer, the Travel journal, and the head of a city page for a city that hasn't launched.

HOW TO DO IT

1. In the LifeBook, tap Add a memory, then Add a place.
2. Search. If the place isn't there, tap + Add a place we don't have.
3. Give it a name, a city and a type, and save it. It now appears at the top of your picker under Your places, marked yours.
4. Choose it and finish the memory as usual.

WHAT IT BECOMES

Part of your pet's LifeBook, with the place named, the same as any other memory.

GOOD TO KNOW

A memory at a place you added is always private. It never appears on the Pack Feed and never becomes a Pack Story — the place hasn't been verified, and the Pack only sees places that have. Everything you save before your city launches is still there after it does.

OUT THIS WEEK

Events & adoptions

Yappy hours, markets, game days, and the shelters that could use a hand.

WHAT IT IS

A calendar of dog-friendly happenings around Jupiter — yappy hours, markets, dog days at the ballpark, guided walks — and a separate tab of adoption events from the local rescues. Every date comes from the organizer's own page, and each event says whether your dog can come or whether that hasn't been confirmed.

WHERE IT LIVES

The Events menu in the top bar: Pet events and Pet adoptions. On a phone, the menu's Events row.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open Events in the top bar and choose Pet events or Pet adoptions.
2. Scan the list — the next date is on each card. Tap a card to open the event.
3. Read the dog-access line before you go. Where the organizer hasn't said, the event says so and suggests you call.
4. Found something we're missing? Tell Maverick at the bottom of the adoptions tab sends it to us.

WHAT IT BECOMES

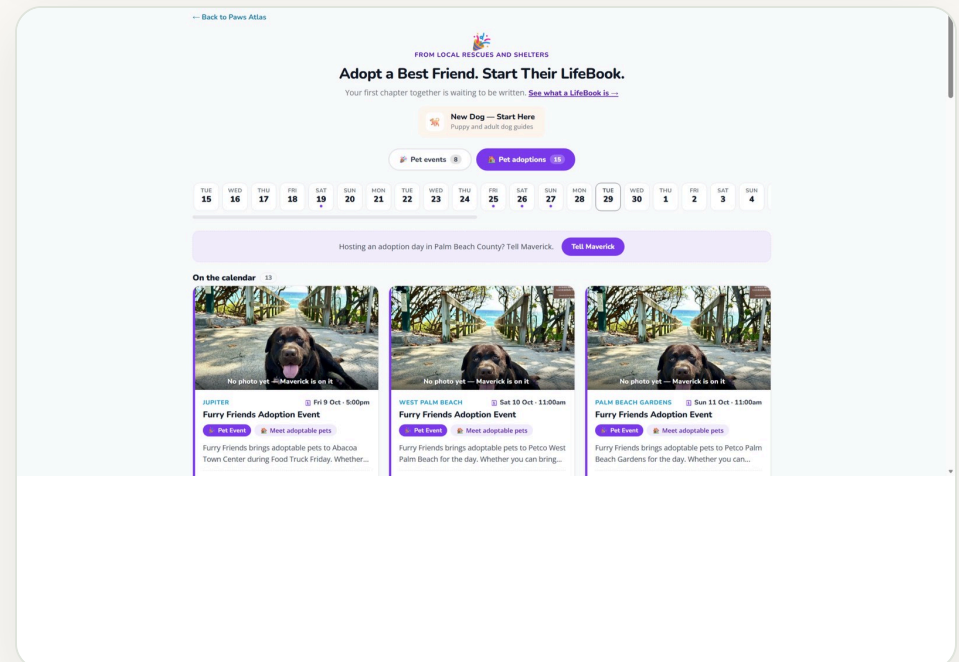

An event day is a good day to write down. Add it as a memory afterwards from the LifeBook.

GOOD TO KNOW

Paws Atlas lists events; it doesn't run them, and it doesn't guess whether dogs are welcome. "Not confirmed" means exactly that. Dates are re-checked every week.

WHEN IT'S URGENT

Emergency vet

The nearest hospitals, one tap to call, before you have to think.

WHAT IT IS

A page that does one thing: shows the nearest emergency animal hospitals with a call button and directions, plus the ASPCA Animal Poison Control line.

WHERE IT LIVES

Pet-Friendly Places → Emergency vet in the top bar; the red Emergency vet row in the phone menu; the Emergency link at the top of every trip page; and Find emergency vet in the Emergency Kit.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open Emergency vet from wherever you are.
2. Allow your location if asked, so the nearest hospitals come first.
3. Tap  Call on a hospital, or Open in Maps for directions.
4. Anywhere we haven't verified hospitals ourselves, tap Search emergency vets near me to open Google Maps at your location.

WHAT IT BECOMES

Nothing — and that's the point. This page writes nothing down and asks nothing of you.

GOOD TO KNOW

The hospitals listed have been verified by us for Jupiter and the surrounding area. The Poison Control line is a 24/7 hotline with a consultation fee, stated on the page. In an emergency, call first.

The Emergency vet page

The story only you can tell.

The LifeBook is one book per dog, built from the ordinary days as much as the milestones. This is how to fill it.

Your pet & "About Maverick"

One profile per dog, and the questions that teach the book how to sound.

Journal entry

A few lines, a place, a photo. The day stays.

Moments & special occasions

Gotcha Day. Birthdays. Firsts. The dates the rest of the story hangs on.

Speak instead of typing

Talk about the day. The words appear. You still decide what stays.

Albums

A LifeBook is everything. An album is a small, ordered selection with a name and a cover.

Favorites, search & the timeline

Nine memories or nine hundred — the year you want is one tap away.

START HERE

Your pet & "About Maverick"

One profile per dog, and the questions that teach the book how to sound.

WHAT IT IS

Your profile is your pet's home on Paws Atlas — the LifeBook door, trips, care, and the shelf of everything you've saved. About Maverick is a five-part sheet where you describe your dog in your own words: who they are, how they'd sound, how they came home, who's in their pack, and how you'd like their LifeBook told.

WHERE IT LIVES

Log in and tap your name in the top bar. On the profile, About Maverick sits under the welcome; it's also in the LifeBook's More actions menu.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Sign Up, then Add pet: name, breed, size, birthday, and a photo if you like. Add more dogs any time from Manage pets.
2. Open About Maverick. In Who Maverick is, tap the chips that fit — goofy, velcro dog, greets everyone — and answer What does Maverick do that no other dog does?
3. Answer If Maverick could talk, how would they sound? and How did Maverick join the family? Type, or tap Speak instead of typing.
4. Choose a narrator — Biographer, Maverick's Voice or Family Memoir — and a tone — Heartfelt, Playful or Adventurous. Tap Save.

WHAT IT BECOMES

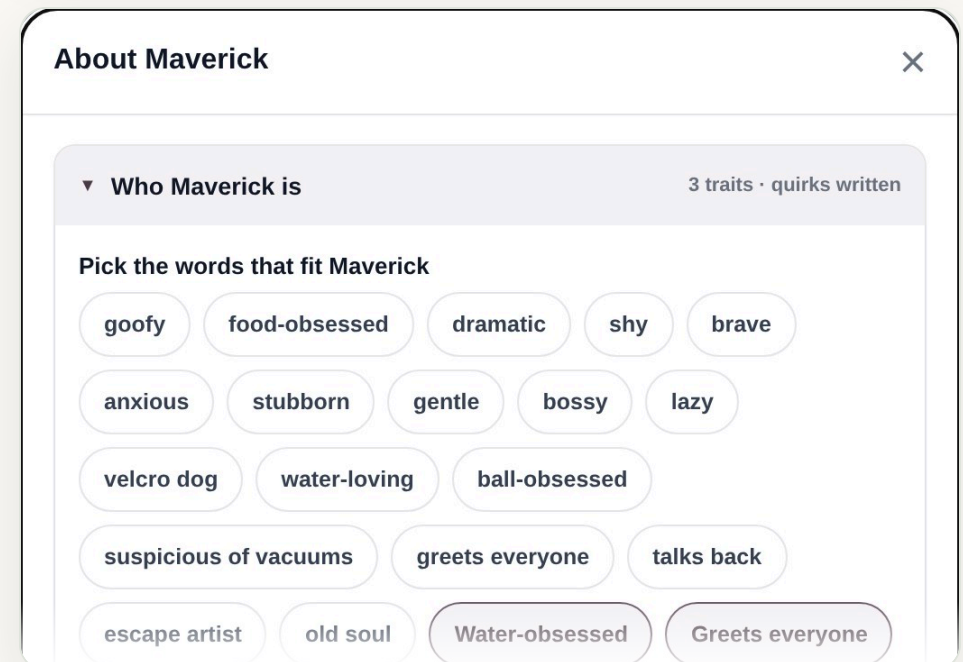

The voice of the LifeBook. When Paws Atlas writes your dog's chapters, this sheet is what it reads first, so the story sounds like your dog and not like a form.

GOOD TO KNOW

Every field is optional and you can come back to it. Who's in Maverick's pack is private to you and is never shown anywhere public. Written chapters are not live yet; the sheet is ready for them.

THE ORDINARY TUESDAY

Journal entry

A few lines, a place, a photo. The day stays.

WHAT IT IS

A journal entry is the everyday memory: where you went, what happened, a photo or four. It is the most common thing in a LifeBook and the one most worth doing.

WHERE IT LIVES

The LifeBook — Pet's Lifebook in the top bar, or Open LifeBook on your profile. Entries appear under Memories, newest month first. Your Travel journal on the profile lists them by place with Read entry, Edit and Share.

HOW TO DO IT

1. In the LifeBook, tap Add a memory. Journal Entry is selected.
2. Write in What to remember. A Title is optional.
3. Set When it happened — today is already filled in. Tap Add photo for up to four.
4. Tap Add a place and pick where you were, or skip it.
5. Tap Save memory.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A page in your dog's LifeBook, filed under its month and, if you chose a place, tied to that place. If the date falls inside one of your trips, it shows up on the trip too.

GOOD TO KNOW

A journal entry is private unless you choose to share it (see Pack Story). Photos are kept in your browser, so the LifeBook tells you how much room is left. Keep your originals somewhere you trust.

The screenshot shows the 'Add a memory' form in the 'Maverick's LifeBook' app. At the top, it says 'Paws Atlas / LifeBook' and 'Maverick's LifeBook' with the tagline 'The big adventures. The little things.' Below this is a toggle for 'Private by default'. The main section is titled 'Add a memory' with a subtitle 'A walk, a trip, a photo, a line you want to keep. Only a few words are needed.' The form has several sections: 'Pet' with a profile picture of a dog named 'Maverick'; 'Entry type' with 'Journal Entry' selected and 'Special Occasion' as an option; 'Title - optional' with a text field containing 'The little things'; 'What to remember' with a large text area containing 'Carlin Park at 7am before the heat. Two laps of the field, one long stare at the ocean from the dune walkover, home by 8.'; 'When it happened' with a date picker set to '09/30/2026' and a link 'Not sure of the exact date?'; and 'Photos' with a note 'up to 4, 2 MB each' and 'About 1.0 MB of photo space left on this device'.

Add a memory: the composer with a place chosen

Below this is a toggle for 'Private by default' and a button '+ Add a memory'. The main section is titled 'Memories' with a sub-header 'Albums'. There is a search bar 'Search the whole LifeBook' with the placeholder 'A place, a moment, a word' and a dropdown for 'Entry type' set to 'All entries'. Below this is a 'Trips' button and a 'Browse the years' section with buttons for '2026' (9 memories) and '2021' (2 memories). The 'September 2026' section is expanded, showing 3 memories. The first memory is a 'JOURNAL ENTRY' titled 'Tommy Bahama Marlin Bar' from 'Sep 20, 2026 - Jupiter' with 1 photo. The second is a 'PLACE VISIT' titled 'Checked in at Dive Bar Restaurant' from 'Sep 13, 2026 - Dive Bar Restaurant - Jupiter' with 1 check-in. The third is a 'JOURNAL ENTRY' titled 'Carlin Park' from 'Sep 6, 2026 - Jupiter' with 1 photo.

Remember

THE ANCHORS

Moments & special occasions

Gotcha Day. Birthdays. Firsts. The dates the rest of the story hangs on.

WHAT IT IS

A special occasion is a memory with a milestone attached — the day they came home, a birthday, the first time they did something. It also fits memories that don't have a place: the rainy Sunday on the couch.

WHERE IT LIVES

The same Add a memory composer, with Special Occasion chosen instead of Journal Entry.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Tap Add a memory, then Special Occasion.
2. Pick Gotcha Day, Birthday or First Time — or none, for a moment that's simply worth keeping.
3. Write what happened. If you don't know the exact date, tap Not sure of the exact date? and choose Just the month, Just the year or Date unknown.
4. Add photos, and tap Save memory.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A milestone in the LifeBook. A Gotcha Day also fills in When did Maverick come home? on the About sheet if you haven't set it.

GOOD TO KNOW

A memory with only a month or a year is filed under that month or year and reads that way. When the time comes, the last chapter has a quiet home of its own — When the time comes... in the LifeBook's More actions menu — so it never sits beside the birthday chips.

Speak instead of typing

Talk about the day. The words appear. You still decide what stays.

WHAT IT IS

A microphone button on every box where you'd describe a memory. Tap it, talk, and your words are typed into the box for you. Then you tidy them up and save, the same as if you'd typed them.

WHERE IT LIVES

Under the label of every memory box: What to remember in the composer, the Travel journal's entry box, and the three story questions on the About Maverick sheet.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Tap Speak instead of typing. The first time, your browser asks to use the microphone — allow it.
2. Talk. Your words appear in the box as you go.
3. Tap Stop when you're done — or it stops on its own after a minute, or when you save or close.
4. Fix anything the browser misheard, especially names, then tap Save memory.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A memory like any other — and a note to the LifeBook that this one was spoken, which helps the story sound like you.

THE PART YOU'D HAND SOMEONE

Albums

A LifeBook is everything. An album is a small, ordered selection with a name and a cover.

WHAT IT IS

An album is a selection of memories from one pet's LifeBook, in an order you choose, with a title and a cover — the trip, the first year, the summer you both got old together. It reads like a short book. The originals never move.

WHERE IT LIVES

The LifeBook's Albums tab. Also Add to album on any memory, and Create album on a trip page.

HOW TO DO IT

1. On the Albums tab, tap Create album. Step one is your LifeBook in selection mode: tap the memories that belong. Review selected shows what you've ticked; Continue moves on.
2. Step two: give it a title, pick a cover photo or a Text cover, and put the pages in order. A caption replaces a memory's words in this album only. Draft saved appears as you go.
3. Step three is the finished book. Save draft to come back later, or Save album.
4. In the library, Open album reads it; Edit album reopens step two.

WHAT IT BECOMES

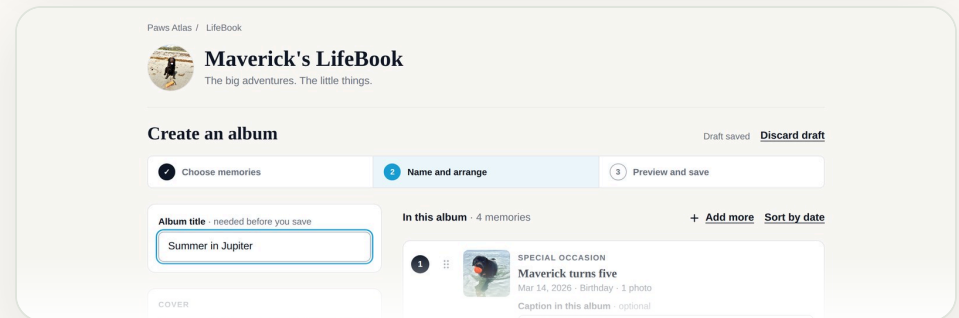

Its own book inside the LifeBook, pointing at your memories rather than copying them. One memory can be in as many albums as you like.

GOOD TO KNOW

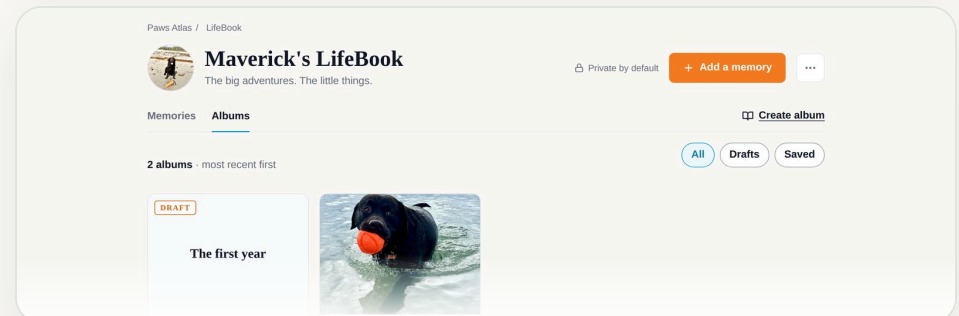

Albums are private — there is no link and no public page. A saved album can be edited but not yet deleted. There is no written story in an album yet; it is your photos and your words. Both are on the list.

Step 1 — Choose memories

Step 2 — Name and arrange

FINDING YOUR WAY BACK

Favorites, search & the timeline

Nine memories or nine hundred — the year you want is one tap away.

WHAT IT IS

The LifeBook's Memories tab is a timeline by year and month, with a search box and filters so the day you're thinking of is easy to find. A Favorite star marks the ones you'd keep if you could only keep a few.

WHERE IT LIVES

The top of the Memories tab, and on every memory when you open it.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Type in Search the whole LifeBook, or narrow by Entry type, Favorites only or the Trips chip.
2. Tap a year under Choose a year, then a month to open or close it.
3. Tap any card to open the memory. From there: Edit, Favorite, Add to album, and Open in Paws Atlas for the place.
4. Back to memories returns you to the same spot on the timeline.

WHAT IT BECOMES

Favorites are a filter, not a separate book: tick Favorites only and the timeline shows just those.

GOOD TO KNOW

Check-ins and Pack Stories are in the timeline too, alongside journal entries and occasions. Every memory in the LifeBook can be favorited and can go in an album.

ON THE PLACE ITSELF

Pack Story

A memory you chose to share, shown on the place where it happened.

WHAT IT IS

A Pack Story is a journal entry you've shared. It appears on the place's own page for other pet parents to read, and on the Pack Feed. Tags — Shaded seating, Off-leash area, Dog menu/treats — tell the next dog what to expect.

WHERE IT LIVES

Start from the place: ✨ Share Your Pack Story on any venue page. Your shared stories are listed under Pack stories on your profile with Open place, Read story, Share, Edit and Delete.

HOW TO DO IT

1. On a place, tap ✨ Share Your Pack Story. The composer opens with the place chosen and Share with the Pack selected.
2. Write what happened. Tap the chips that fit the place.
3. Tap Save and share to Pack Feed. Or choose Just me and Save memory to keep it private.
4. Change your mind later from Pack stories on your profile: Edit the words, or Delete the story.

WHAT IT BECOMES

It is a page in your dog's LifeBook first, with a Pack Story badge. Sharing is a switch on the memory, not a copy of it.

GOOD TO KNOW

Because a Pack Story is the memory itself, deleting the story deletes the memory. Only verified places can carry a Pack Story — a place you added yourself stays private by rule.

ALREADY WRITTEN

Sharing a memory you already have

Written it privately? You can share it later, from the journal or from the feed.

WHAT IT IS

Any journal entry or memory you've saved privately can be shared afterwards, without retyping it. A trip can be shared the same way, with a few words about how it went.

WHERE IT LIVES

On the Pack Feed: Share a journal entry, Share a memory and Share a trip, behind the Share with the Pack button, under Something you already keep.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open the Pack Feed and tap Share with the Pack.
2. Choose Share a journal entry or Share a memory, and tap Choose on the one you mean. An entry that is already on the feed offers View post instead.
3. Read it over as the Pack will see it, then tap Share this entry or Share this memory. It appears on the Pack Feed under You.
4. For a trip, choose Share a trip, pick the trip, write How was the trip?, decide whether to Include planned places and Include pet names, then Review trip post and Share trip with the Pack.

The Share button on an entry in your Travel journal is different: it sends that entry's words to a person, through your phone's share sheet, and shows nothing to the Pack.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A journal entry shared this way becomes a Pack Story on its place, exactly as if you'd shared it when you wrote it.

GOOD TO KNOW

A memory at a place you added yourself can't be chosen — it stays private. Sharing never moves or copies the memory out of the LifeBook. A shared trip carries its places and only the journal entries you've already shared; your notes, packing list and care records stay out of it, and sharing the same trip again updates the post rather than adding another.

"Share with the Pack" — something new, or something you already keep

THE PACK FEED

Pack Feed post

A moment, a question, a tip — fresh from your day.

WHAT IT IS

The Pack Feed is where pet parents post to each other: a photo from this afternoon, a question for the Pack, a discovery worth passing on. You can follow people, love a post, comment and share it.

WHERE IT LIVES

 Pack Feed in the top bar. The views are All, Following, Followers, Plans and You, down the side on a computer and in a row on a phone. Everywhere above the posts narrows the feed to one city, and the search box finds a post by its words, its place or its author.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open the Pack Feed and tap Share with the Pack, then Make a Pack Post.
2. Pick what it is: Share a moment, Ask the Pack or Tip & discovery. Add a Title and Your words — type them, or tap Speak instead of typing. Name a city under About a city if the post is about one, or Tag a venue and the venue's city comes with it. Add up to four photos.
3. Decide whether to Also save to your dog's LifeBook. A post with a photo starts with this on; a text-only post starts with it off. Either way the choice is yours.
4. Tap Review post, read it as the Pack will see it, then Share with the Pack.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A post on the feed, under You, with your dog's name and photo on it. If you kept the LifeBook save on, a private memory with the same words and photos is in the LifeBook too — the post stays public, the memory stays yours. On every post, the three-dot menu offers Save post, Hide this post and Report post; on your own, Edit post and Delete post. Saved posts keeps the ones you bookmark.

GOOD TO KNOW

Posts on the feed today include sample posts so you can see how it works before the Pack fills in. Followers stays empty until accounts arrive: the Pack Feed lives in your browser today, so no one else can follow you yet. Editing a post changes the post, not the memory it saved; deleting the post keeps the memory. Everything you post stays yours to delete.

MEET UP

Pack Plan

Heading to the beach Saturday? Say so, and see who joins.

WHAT IT IS

A Pack Plan is a meetup you're proposing: a beach hang, a trail hike, a patio dinner, or just hanging out, on a day and at a place, for everyone or just the people who follow you.

WHERE IT LIVES

Plan a meetup behind Share with the Pack on the Pack Feed; plans appear under the Plans tab.

HOW TO DO IT

1. On the Pack Feed, tap Share with the Pack, then Plan a meetup.
2. Pick What kind of outing? — Beach hang, Trail hike, Patio dinner or Just hanging out — choose the City, and give it a Title.
3. Set the Date and the Time of day: Morning, Afternoon or Evening. Tick This plan spans more than one day to add an End date. Tag a venue if you have one in mind.
4. Under Who sees this? choose Everyone or Followers only, tap Review plan, then Share with the Pack.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A card under Plans that others can love and comment on. Filter the tab by date to see what's coming up.

Plan a meetup: what kind of outing, when, where

GOOD TO KNOW

A plan is an invitation, not a booking. Whether the place welcomes dogs is on the place's own page — check it before you propose it.

LOOK OUT FOR EACH OTHER

Lost & Found Pets

When a pet goes missing or turns up, ask the people nearby.

WHAT IT IS

A report for a pet that has gone missing, or one you have found: the kind of pet, the general area, the date, a photo if you have one, posted so people nearby can keep an eye out and answer in the comments. While it is active it carries an orange Needs your help banner and shows ahead of other posts in its city.

WHERE IT LIVES

Lost & Found Pets, beside Share with the Pack on the Pack Feed, opens the Lost & Found view: every report, active ones first, with Report a lost or found pet above them. The same form is the first door, Lost or found a pet?, behind Share with the Pack.

HOW TO DO IT

1. On the Pack Feed, tap Lost & Found Pets, then Report a lost or found pet.
2. Choose Lost pet or Found pet and the Pet type. Add the City, the Date last seen or found, a General area — a park or a landmark, never a home address — and What should people look for? One photo helps.
3. Tap Review report, read it as the Pack will see it, then Publish report.
4. When there is news, tap Update status on the card: Reunited with their family or Close report. Reopen report brings it back.

WHAT IT BECOMES

A post in Lost & Found and on the feed, with your name on it and the pet's. Active reports lead the feed, and with a city chosen they sit in their own Help a pet in section above everything else. People reply in the comments; Edit report and Delete report are in its three-dot menu. Reunited or Closed takes the banner off and keeps the report and its comments as history.

GOOD TO KNOW

A report is a community post, not a report to an animal service: if a pet is missing right now, also call your local shelter and animal services. Today a report is saved only in this browser and does not reach other pet parents yet, so after you publish, use Share outside the Pack to post it where your neighbors already look. Reports are never saved to the LifeBook, even with a photo.

Help a pet get home: what happened, where, when, and what to look for Somewhere new. Together.

A trip is a few days, a place to stay, a list of stops and a packing list — and afterwards, a chapter.

Trips

Start with the dates, add the places, put them on days.

Packing & sharing a trip

Fourteen things you always forget, and an itinerary you can send.

THE PLAN

Trips

Start with the dates, add the places, put them on days.

WHAT IT IS

A trip is a destination and a date range, with the places you want to visit arranged by day, a stay, a packing list, and the memories you make while you're there.

WHERE IT LIVES

My trips on your profile. Each trip has its own page.

HOW TO DO IT

1. On your profile, tap My trips, then Start a trip. Name it, choose a destination — Jupiter or one of the Florida cities coming next — set the dates, and choose who's coming.
2. On the trip page, tap Add a place. Search by keyword or category, tap Add, and choose a day and time — or Save for later under Saved places.
3. Hotels go under Your home base: choose one, set the nights, and Adjust your stay any time.
4. Open a day to see it in order. Mark visited as you go; Time & day and More options move a stop.

WHAT IT BECOMES

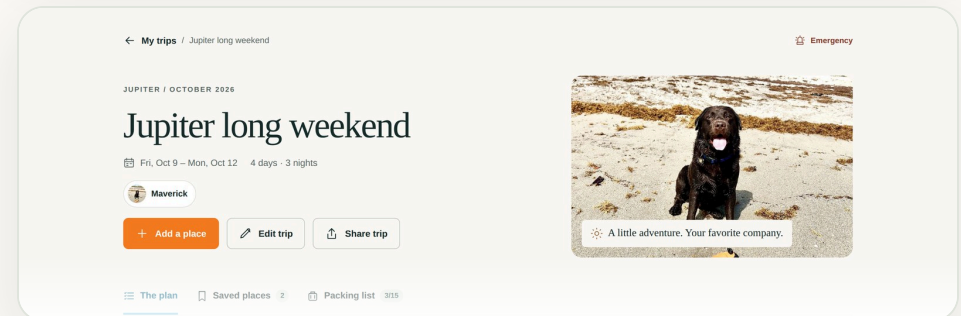

Any memory you save with a date inside the trip appears under From this trip on the trip page — and Create album there starts an album from exactly those.

GOOD TO KNOW

Trips run up to 21 days. Add to Trip on any place in the directory saves it to a trip's Saved places from the card. The destination list includes the cities coming soon, so you can plan the trip before the directory has caught up.

Packing & sharing a trip

Fourteen things you always forget, and an itinerary you can send.

WHAT IT IS

Every trip has a packing list — fourteen dog essentials to tick off, plus your own items — and a Share trip button that sends the itinerary as text to whoever's coming.

WHERE IT LIVES

The Packing list tab on the trip page, and Share trip at the top of it.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open the trip and tap Packing list. Tick items as you pack. Add your own item for anything the list doesn't have. If a pet on the trip has medications on file, the list reminds you.
2. Tap Share trip. Tick Include pets' names if you want them in, and Preview what's shared to read exactly what will be sent: the days, the stops and the stay.
3. Tap Share trip to send it through your phone's share sheet. On a computer without one, it's copied to the clipboard instead.

WHAT IT BECOMES

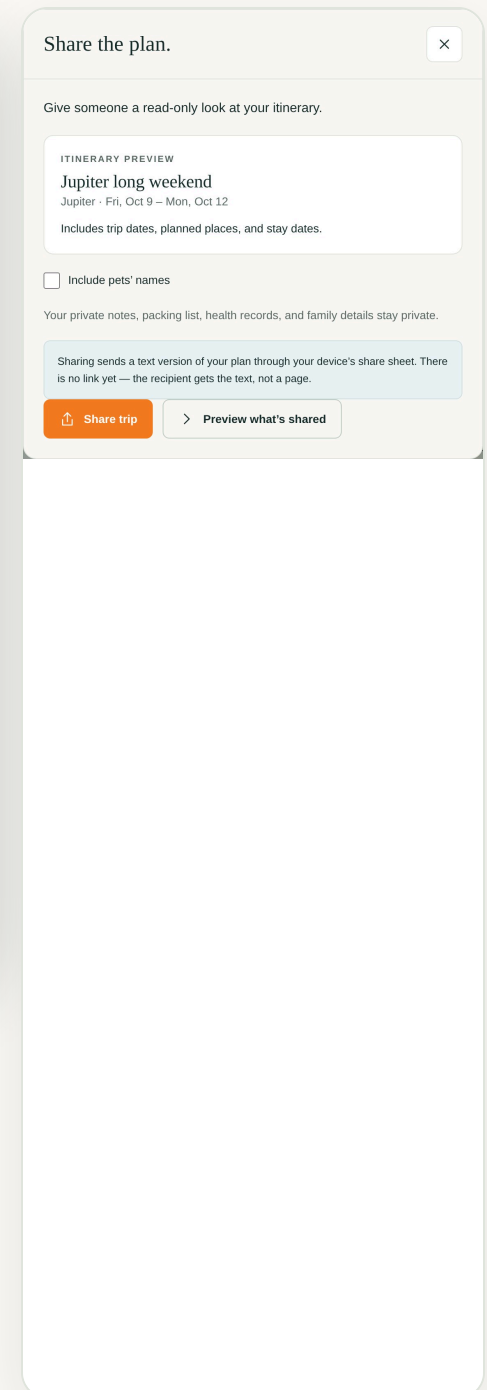

The list stays with the trip, ticked and ready for next time; the Emergency Kit reads the same list.

GOOD TO KNOW

Your day notes are private and never go in the shared itinerary, whatever else you include. The share is plain text today — a link to the trip comes with accounts.

The Packing list

Share trip: what goes in the itinerary

Close at hand.

The details you need in a waiting room, the numbers you need at 2 a.m., and one page you can hand to anyone who looks after your dog.

Health & Records

Microchip, vet, vaccinations, documents — in one place, for the day you need them fast.

Emergency Kit

What to watch for, who to call, and what to say when you get them.

Pet Passport & sharing records

One printable page for the sitter, the kennel, the hotel — with exactly the details you pick.

Health & Records

Microchip, vet, vaccinations, documents — in one place, for the day you need them fast.

WHAT IT IS

A private record for each dog: the care essentials (microchip, vet, emergency contact, allergies, medications, insurance), a vaccination ledger that works out when the next one is due, and a place to keep the documents.

WHERE IT LIVES

Health & Records on your profile. It follows the pet selected on your profile.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open Health & Records. Under Care essentials, tap Edit information and fill in what you know. Phone numbers become one-tap calls.
2. Under Vaccinations, tap Add vaccination. Pick from the common ones or type your own, enter the date given, and choose a one-year or three-year booster. The page shows Est. due, Due soon and Overdue for you.
3. Under Documents, tap Add document to keep the rabies certificate, the microchip registration, the insurance card. View, Share or Remove any of them.

WHAT IT BECOMES

The source for the Pet Passport and for Share selected records (next page), and the numbers the Emergency Kit dials.

GOOD TO KNOW

Booster intervals are standard references, not medical advice — your vet's schedule wins. Documents are stored in your browser on this device; keep the originals too. Nothing here is ever shown publicly.

HELP COMES FIRST

Emergency Kit

What to watch for, who to call, and what to say when you get them.

WHAT IT IS

A calm page for a bad moment: the nearest emergency vet, Poison Control, the warning signs for eight common emergencies, a searchable list of toxic foods and plants, and the Florida hazards a new arrival might not know.

WHERE IT LIVES

The Emergency Kit tab beside Health & Records on your profile; Emergency Kit on the profile home and on every trip page.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Tap Find emergency vet for the nearest hospitals, or Call Poison Control — Copy number if you'd rather dial from another phone.
2. Tap What to tell the vet for the eight questions they'll ask, so you have the answers ready.
3. Under Warning signs & first aid, tap the situation — Choking, Heatstroke, Ate Something Toxic and more — for the signs and when to call.
4. Under Could it be toxic?, search a food or plant; Critical, Serious and Mild say how urgent.

WHAT IT BECOMES

Nothing is saved here. It reads your dog's records so Call my vet dials the right number, and it reads the trip's packing list on the road.

GOOD TO KNOW

The Kit lists warning signs and tells you when to call. It does not give treatment instructions — deliberately. In an emergency, the vet is the answer and the Kit is how you reach one faster.

ONLY WHAT YOU CHOOSE

Pet Passport & sharing records

One printable page for the sitter, the kennel, the hotel — with exactly the details you pick.

WHAT IT IS

The Pet Passport is a one-page summary of your dog — identity, care essentials, vaccinations — that you can print or save as a PDF. Share selected records sends the same details as text, but only the ones you tick.

WHERE IT LIVES

At the bottom of Health & Records: Preview Pet Passport and, at the top, Share selected records.

HOW TO DO IT

1. Open Health & Records and tap Preview Pet Passport. Check it, then print it or save it as a PDF from the print dialog.
2. To send only some of it, tap Share selected records. Tick the details, the vaccination summary and any documents you want to include.
3. Review the text, then Share it or Copy it. Each document you selected has its own share button, because files travel separately from text.

WHAT IT BECOMES

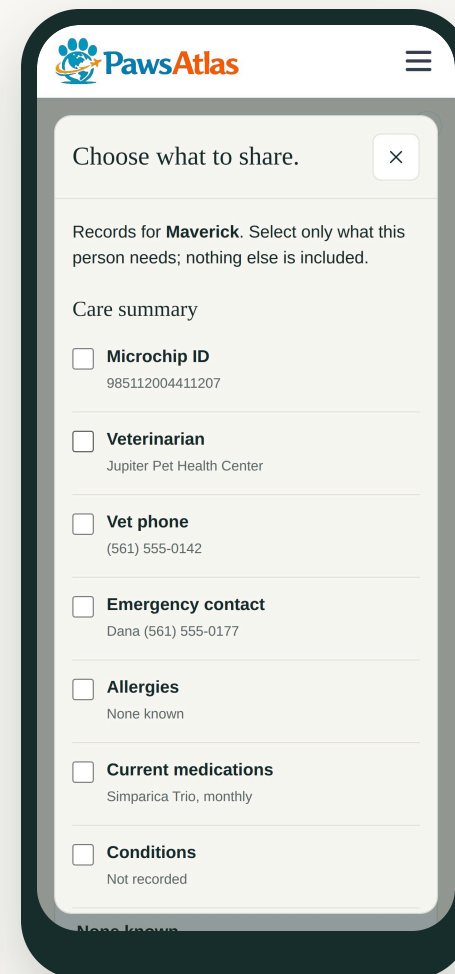

The page a stranger can care for your dog from.

GOOD TO KNOW

Nothing you don't tick is included — the review shows you exactly what will be sent. The passport is built from what you've entered; empty fields are left off rather than guessed.

WHERE THINGS LIVE

Paws Atlas has no server accounts yet. Your pet, memories, albums, trips and records are saved by your browser on the device you're using. Another device, another browser, or clearing site data means they're not there. Keep original photos and documents somewhere you trust. Accounts are the next big step, and everything you've saved will come with you.

WHAT THE PACK SEES

Only what you share, and only from verified places. Nothing leaves your LifeBook on its own, and sharing is a switch you can turn off.

WHAT ISN'T HERE YET

Written LifeBook chapters, told in the voice you chose on the About sheet. Ask Maverick, his take on where to go. Albums you can delete, share or read as a story. Cities beyond Jupiter — St. Petersburg, Tampa, Sarasota, Clearwater, Naples, Orlando and Miami are on the way. And the mic on Firefox, which is Firefox's to fix.

ONE MORE THING FROM MAVERICK

Take me somewhere. Then write it down.
